What to expect from the Financial Planning Process?

The right financial advice can protect your lifestyle and shape your future.

Before your adviser provides you with financial planning advice, you will need to agree to the type and scope of advice to be provided, usually in the 'Fact Find' document or a service agreement. In order for your adviser to provide you with personal advice, you need to provide them with detailed information about your current situation, needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

Initial Advice

The first time you receive personal advice and before you invest in a financial product, we need to provide you with a Statement of Advice (SoA). It contains our strategy and product recommended solutions, the reasons for providing that advice, as well as information about risks, benefits, features and fees payable to help you make an informed decision about proceeding.

If your adviser recommends a particular investment or insurance product to you, they will provide you with the relevant product brochures such as Product Disclosure Statements (PDS) and/or Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) guides. The PDS / IDPS will provide you with information to enable you to make an informed decision about your investment or whether to acquire a financial product, including information about the key benefits, risks and costs associated with the product. We encourage you to read these documents carefully and to ask your adviser any questions that you might have.

Further Advice

If you need subsequent advice and your circumstances have not changed significantly, further personal advice provided to you will be documented in a Record of Advice (RoA), provided that the basis of the further adviser has not changed significantly from the initial advice or previous SoA. An SoA may be required for more significant changes. Copies of each SoA and RoA will be retained on your client file. You may request a copy of these documents from us using the contact details above.

Your instructions

If you decide to act on the advice, you will need to provide your consent to proceed with the advice. This usually means completing a document called an 'Authority to Proceed' to confirm that you understand both the advice you have received and the benefits, risks and costs associated with the products or services recommended to you. Where personal advice is not provided, we can also act on your verbal or written instructions, we will confirm this in an email document.

How we charge

All advice fees will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services. Any remuneration paid to Cojag, or your adviser for advice, or by a product provider that relates to an individual financial product recommendation will be disclosed in the advice document provided to you. Unless otherwise noted, all fees are inclusive of GST.

A fee disclosure statement will be given to you each year if you choose to enter into an ongoing fee arrangement with your adviser. It will outline the adviser service fees paid and the services you received in the preceding 12 months.

The level of fees will depend on complexity of the advice required and will always be agreed with you prior to proceeding.

Generally, advisers either charge a flat fee or percentage-based fee. Your adviser may charge you and receive the following:

Initial advice fees	Range of fees (inclusive of GST)		Examples
These are fees paid by you for: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Research into your existing situation including your current financial products (within the	Flat fee	Between $1,000 and $20,000	Your adviser may charge you an agreed annual fee of $2,500.

Commissions
These payments are made by the product providers in the form of initial and/ or ongoing commissions and are not an additional cost to you. Generally, insurance product providers pay commission.

General advice, execution only instructions or other services

Also if your adviser provides you with a further advice document such as a SoA or RoA (which may arise depending on the complexity of the advice and the services provided), other fees may be payable. Any such fees and method of payment will be agreed in writing between you and your adviser and may include up-front, ad hoc, execution only service fees, implementation or ongoing fees, or a combination.

Fees can be deducted from your product or can be invoiced directly to you or a combination of methods.

Other remuneration

Life insurance products

Your adviser may receive an up-front commission of up to 60% (exclusive of GST) of your first annual insurance premium for arranging your life insurance cover. In addition, your adviser may receive, after the first year, an ongoing annual 'trail' commission of up to 20% (exclusive of GST) of your annual insurance premium. Where commissions are the same for initial upfront and ongoing annual commission (i.e. level) the above commission caps do not apply. These level commission payments are made by the relevant product issuers and are not an additional cost to you. Advisers may also charge initial and ongoing adviser services fees. Insurers can deduct premiums directly from you or from your superannuation account balance.

What other payments and benefits may Cojag and your adviser receive?

Sometimes in the process of providing advice and other financial services, Cojag or your adviser may receive benefits from product providers such as sponsorship of events, subsidised educational conferences, rebates, bonuses, preferred product rates or other fees.

Non-monetary benefits

These benefits are discretionary in nature and relate to future events. It is therefore not possible to provide an estimated dollar value on these benefits. Advisers may receive benefits from Cojag or its related companies or product providers such as:

- Educational conferences and seminars
- IT software or support
- Non-monetary benefits such as business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, or other minor benefits. These benefits cannot be accepted on a frequent or regular basis or over the value of $300.

Each adviser must keep a register of benefits received. If you would like to see a copy of our registers, you can contact us or your adviser directly.

Any Interest, associations and other relationships

Referrals

If someone has referred you to us, Cojag or your adviser may pay a fee or commission in relation to that referral. Cojag may pay a referral fee to a referral partner which may range from 0% to 20% of the initial and/or ongoing fees or commissions. Where a referral fee is paid, details will be provided to you in your advice document.

What to expect from the Financial Planning Process?

The right financial advice can protect your lifestyle and shape your future.

Before your adviser provides you with financial planning advice, you will need to agree to the type and scope of advice to be provided, usually in the 'Fact Find' document or a service agreement. In order for your adviser to provide you with personal advice, you need to provide them with detailed information about your current situation, needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

Initial Advice

The first time you receive personal advice and before you invest in a financial product, we need to provide you with a Statement of Advice (SoA). It contains our strategy and product recommended solutions, the reasons for providing that advice, as well as information about risks, benefits, features and fees payable to help you make an informed decision about proceeding.

If your adviser recommends a particular investment or insurance product to you, they will provide you with the relevant product brochures such as Product Disclosure Statements (PDS) and/or Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) guides. The PDS / IDPS will provide you with information to enable you to make an informed decision about your investment or whether to acquire a financial product, including information about the key benefits, risks and costs associated with the product. We encourage you to read these documents carefully and to ask your adviser any questions that you might have.

Your instructions

If you decide to act on the advice, you will need to provide your consent to proceed with the advice. This usually means completing a document called an 'Authority to Proceed' to confirm that you understand both the advice you have received and the benefits, risks and costs associated with the products or services recommended to you. Where personal advice is not provided, we can also act on your verbal or written instructions, we will confirm this in an email document.

How we charge

All advice fees will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services. Any remuneration paid to Cojag, or your adviser for advice, or by a product provider that relates to an individual financial product recommendation will be disclosed in the advice document provided to you. Unless otherwise noted, all fees are inclusive of GST.

A fee disclosure statement will be given to you each year if you choose to enter into an ongoing fee arrangement with your adviser. It will outline the adviser service fees paid and the services you received in the preceding 12 months.

The level of fees will depend on complexity of the advice required and will always be agreed with you prior to proceeding.

Generally, advisers either charge a flat fee or percentage based fee. Your adviser may charge you and receive the following:

Initial advice fees	Range of fees (inclusive of GST)		Examples
These are fees paid by you for: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Research into your existing situation including your current financial products (within the	Flat fee	Between $1,000 and $20,000	Your adviser may charge you an agreed annual fee of $2,500.

General advice, execution only instructions or other services

Also if your adviser provides you with a further advice document such as a SoA or RoA (which may arise depending on the complexity of the advice and the services provided), other fees may be payable. Any such fees and method of payment will be agreed in writing between you and your adviser and may include up-front, ad hoc, execution only service fees, implementation or ongoing fees, or a combination.

Fees can be deducted from your product or can be invoiced directly to you or a combination of methods.

Other remuneration

Life insurance products

Your adviser may receive an up-front commission of up to 60% (exclusive of GST) of your first annual insurance premium for arranging your life insurance cover. In addition, your adviser may receive, after the first year, an ongoing annual 'trail' commission of up to 20% (exclusive of GST) of your annual insurance premium. Where commissions are the same for initial upfront and ongoing annual commission (i.e. level) the above commission caps do not apply. These level commission payments are made by the relevant product issuers and are not an additional cost to you. Advisers may also charge initial and ongoing adviser services fees. Insurers can deduct premiums directly from you or from your superannuation account balance.

What other payments and benefits may Cojag and your adviser receive?

Sometimes in the process of providing advice and other financial services, Cojag or your adviser may receive benefits from product providers such as sponsorship of events, subsidised educational conferences, rebates, bonuses, preferred product rates or other fees.

Non-monetary benefits

These benefits are discretionary in nature and relate to future events. It is therefore not possible to provide an estimated dollar value on these benefits. Advisers may receive benefits from Cojag or its related companies or product providers such as:

- Educational conferences and seminars
- IT software or support
- Non-monetary benefits such as business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, or other minor benefits. These benefits cannot be accepted on a frequent or regular basis or over the value of $300.

Each adviser must keep a register of benefits received. If you would like to see a copy of our registers, you can contact us or your adviser directly.

Any Interest, associations and other relationships

Referrals

If someone has referred you to us, Cojag or your adviser may pay a fee or commission in relation to that referral. Cojag may pay a referral fee to a referral partner which may range from 0% to 20% of the initial and/or ongoing fees or commissions. Where a referral fee is paid, details will be provided to you in your advice document.

What to expect from the Financial Planning Process?

The right financial advice can protect your lifestyle and shape your future.

Before your adviser provides you with financial planning advice, you will need to agree to the type and scope of advice to be provided, usually in the 'Fact Find' document or a service agreement. In order for your adviser to provide you with personal advice, you need to provide them with detailed information about your current situation, needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

Initial Advice

The first time you receive personal advice and before you invest in a financial product, we need to provide you with a Statement of Advice (SoA). It contains our strategy and product recommended solutions, the reasons for providing that advice, as well as information about risks, benefits, features and fees payable to help you make an informed decision about proceeding.

If your adviser recommends a particular investment or insurance product to you, they will provide you with the relevant product brochures such as Product Disclosure Statements (PDS) and/or Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) guides. The PDS / IDPS will provide you with information to enable you to make an informed decision about your investment or whether to acquire a financial product, including information about the key benefits, risks and costs associated with the product. We encourage you to read these documents carefully and to ask your adviser any questions that you might have.

Further Advice

If you need subsequent advice and your circumstances have not changed significantly, further personal advice provided to you will be documented in a Record of Advice (RoA), provided that the basis of the further adviser has not changed significantly from the initial advice or previous SoA. An SoA may be required for more significant changes. Copies of each SoA and RoA will be retained on your client file. You may request a copy of these documents from us using the contact details above.

Your instructions

If you decide to act on the advice, you will need to provide your consent to proceed with the advice. This usually means completing a document called an 'Authority to Proceed' to confirm that you understand both the advice you have received and the benefits, risks and costs associated with the products or services recommended to you. Where personal advice is not provided, we can also act on your verbal or written instructions, we will confirm this in an email document.

How we charge

All advice fees will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services. Any remuneration paid to Cojag, or your adviser for advice, or by a product provider that relates to an individual financial product recommendation will be disclosed in the advice document provided to you. Unless otherwise noted, all fees are inclusive of GST.

A fee disclosure statement will be given to you each year if you choose to enter into an ongoing fee arrangement with your adviser. It will outline the adviser service fees paid and the services you received in the preceding 12 months.

The level of fees will depend on complexity of the advice required and will always be agreed with you prior to proceeding.

Generally, advisers either charge a flat fee or percentage based fee. Your adviser may charge you and receive the following:
